About

When it comes to oral health, access to dental care is not equal. Many people struggle to find affordable dental care that's close by and provided by a team that understands their unique needs.

The 2024 Conference on Oral Health will bring together experts, advocates, people with lived experience, and stakeholders to tackle the big issues in dental care access and equity. We'll dive into topics like dental care for veterans, improving services in rural areas, boosting medical-dental integration, supporting dental care for people with disabilities, and how the election may shape oral health policy issues in 2025 and beyond.

Make plans to attend the 2024 Conference on Oral Health to discover the latest resources and tools in Kansas and across the country. Through collaborative discussions, the Conference aims to identify actionable strategies and build partnerships that will improve oral health outcomes for Kansans.
