Dental Champions Corner

Elisa Storbeck, RDH, ECP II, (Class 6) helped with the Spanish translation of the Kansas Mission of Mercy (KMOM) exit surveys. Thank you Elisa for being an asset to oral health! We are excited to be a part of the KMOM team this weekend by conducting exit surveys.

Successful Legislative Oral Health Caucus Meeting

On February 10, Oral Health Kansas sponsored a legislative Oral Health Caucus meeting at the Statehouse. Representative Susan Concannon, (R) Beloit, who is participating in the current Dental Champions class, chaired the informational meeting and facilitated the discussion. Ten Representatives and one Senator attended, hailing from both parties and a variety of cities throughout Kansas. They watched the video Oral Health Kansas produced last fall, discussed the issues shared in the video, and asked questions of the oral health experts in attendance.

If you live in one of these legislator's districts, please drop them a note to thank them for their interest in oral health. Let them know what you do and why you are passionate about the cause. We appreciate their attendance and your continued involvement with Oral Health Kansas!

the grade

Delta Dental Press Release

Only 28 percent of American parents would give their kids an "A" grade for oral health, according to a new survey of more than 1,300 parents released today by Delta Dental in conjunction with National Children's Dental Health Month. In fact, nearly nine of 10 parents (86 percent) say their children's oral health isn't as good as it could be.

A majority of parents (51 percent) think that oral care habits - rather than genetics or what their kids eat - are most responsible for their children's oral health. Yet, almost one-third of children don't brush twice daily, and 61 percent of children don't floss daily.

"A child's dental health is set in motion from a very young age. Tooth decay can develop any time after the first tooth comes in, starting around 6 months old, and good oral health habits should begin even earlier," says Dr. Bill Kohn, DDS, Delta Dental Plans Association's vice president of dental science and policy.

Follow all the KMOM action this weekend

This Friday and Saturday, the Kansas Dental Charitable Foundation will host the annual Kansas Mission of Mercy (KMOM) in Salina at the Bicentennial Center. Over 1000 people are expected to seek dental care over the weekend, and volunteers from across the state will be on hand to meet the needs.
